INDIA-MOROCCO BILATERAL RELATIONS

July 2026

1. POLITICAL

1.1 Introduction

Contacts between India and Morocco go back to the 14th century when the famous traveller and writer from Tangier, Ibn Batuta, travelled to India. In modern history, India was active in the United Nations in supporting the Moroccan freedom movement and recognized Morocco on 20 June 1956 immediately after its independence. Diplomatic relations were established in 1957. Over the years, India and Morocco have developed strong friendly relations and active mutually beneficial cooperation based on shared values and mutual respect.

Desire to build an intensive interaction culminated in the first landmark visit of Indian Prime Minister Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee to Morocco in February 1999 followed by the visit of Moroccan PM Mr. Abderrehman Youssoufi to India in February 2000. After ascending to the throne, HM King Mohammed VI chose India for his first visit to an Asian country in 2001. HM King Mohammed VI visited India in October 2015 for participating in the third India-Africa Forum Summit (IAFS-III) held in New Delhi. He met with Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi on 29 October 2015 and both leaders agreed to work towards taking the bilateral relations between India and Morocco to strategic level. Since then, the relations between the two countries have intensified further. This is reflected in more than 30 Ministerial visits and meetings since October 2015 and signing of more than 40 MoUs/Agreements in the areas including defence, counter-terrorism, cyber security, space, agriculture, vocational training etc.
